This project has been a lot of fun. I learned so much.

Working on the project has increased my interest and I am loving the challenge.

Things I found Hard:

I find it hard to start coding. I find it hard to implement different styles.

Particularly struggling with data structures and OOP. I hope I will get better with practice.

INot Finished Yet:

The game is nowhere near finished or perfect. I think if I have more time,

I will apply the vector methods, and especially the constructor functions.

There is a lot that can be done.

I am very sad that due to several personal issues I was unable to dedicate more time to my studies. I plan to be more organised for future semesters.

CODING IS ALOT OF FUN!!!
